Morocco Peace Is In Sight

French Announce Plan Will Give Morocco a Regency Council for Ruling

PARIS (AP) — French hopes mounted today that a Moroccan settlement would be reached before next Monday, in time to avert further bloodshed in the violence-torn North African protectorate.

Officials of Premier Edgar Faure's government said an agreement was in sight and an announcement would be made "in a short time."

A high French source at U.N. headquarters in New York told newsmen Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafat by Monday will name Si Bekkai, staunch supporter of former Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef, to head a regency council for Morocco. Si Bekkai is the former pasha of Sefrou.

Moulay Arafat, the source at the U.N. continued, will retire to the international zone of Tangier, leaving the council to rule until France and the Moroccans settle their two-year quarrel over the occupancy of the throne.

The French exiled Ben Youssef to Madagascar in 1953 because of his nationalist sympathies, replacing him with Moulay Arafat. The action made the former Sultan's cause the chief rallying point for the nationalists.

Under Faure's plan, Ben Youssef would be allowed to live in France until his future status is settled. Meanwhile, the regency council would form a government representing all Moroccan factions to negotiate for more home rule in the protectorate.

Faure himself set Sept. 12 as the target for a settlement when he began negotiations with the nationalists last month. Subsequently a nationalist group in Casablanca, Morocco's biggest city, called a general strike for that date if Moulay Arafat was still on the throne.

Many in Morocco fear the strike, if it materializes, will touch off another blood bath similar to the uprising Aug. 20-21 in which 132 French and pro-French Moroccans and more than 1,000 Moroccans were killed.

Negotiators on all sides intensified their activities as the target date for the settlement approached.

Cole Camp Fair Into Second Day, Parade Scheduled

The annual Cole Camp fair went into its second day Friday, School Day, with the school float parade at 10:30 a.m., led by the Cole Camp school band. Dairy cattle and FFA cattle and sheep were to be judged that afternoon. Eight contestants went into the horseshoe pitching contest for cash prizes.

At 7:15 Friday night the parade of farm machinery and other non-floats, followed by all floats, were to be held, and prizes awarded.

Saturday's agenda features the amateur contest for rural schools at 10 a.m., with a large attendance expected. At 10 a.m. also will be held the finals in the horseshoe pitching contest, featuring the first and second place winners from the first two days.

But Saturday's highlight will be the grand parade of all floats at 7:45 p.m., with competition limited to floats awarded blue ribbons Friday night. A grand prize of $35 will be presented to the first place float.

The Cole Camp municipal band, directed by Arthur Eickhoff, is furnishing entertainment for the three-day fair, and the Cole Camp school band, under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Berry, is playing today.

Little Time for Jest

The weatherman continues to tease and vex us with late-season broilings, but the public knows that his time for practical jokes is limited. Of Sol is beginning to hug the horizon more as he spans the sky.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 66; 91 at 1 p. m., and 93 at 2 p. m.

The temperature one year ago today, high 85, low 56; two years ago, high 93, low 66; and three years ago, high 91, low 62.

Fair and warmer tonight. Low tonight near 70. Saturday partly cloudy and cooler. High in the 80s.

Stage at Lake of Ozarks 57.4, stationary.

MOBILIZE AGAINST RIOTERS—Turkish Army tanks mobilize in the streets of Istanbul after the Turkish government proclaimed martial law in three major cities and called a special session of the National Assembly to deal with the aftermath of violent anti-Greek rioting and destruction. An estimated 300 persons were injured in Istanbul, 30 of them seriously, and police arrested 2057 rioters. (NEA Radio-Telephoto)

Get Tough Policy—

Bicycle Brigades Forced Police to Halt Leniency

Sedalia's ever growing population has created something else in a hazard, the ever increasing numbers of boys and girls riding bicycles. In recent weeks boys and girls riding bicycles have become a subject of complaints to the police department concerning the mannerism in which they ride in the streets and on sidewalks.

Children especially have been creating a hazard on some of Sedalia's busiest streets and highways.

Adopt New 5-Year Plan For River

KANSAS CITY, Kan., (AP) — A new five year program for control and conservation of water in Missouri and Kansas was adopted today by the Missouri and Arkansas Flood Control Association.

One of the objectives is to boost from two to four million dollars the appropriation for bank and channel stabilization on the Missouri river from Kansas City to St. Louis.

W. G. Calvert, Lexington, Mo., president of the Association, told the fourth annual meeting the best objective for this year was reached when Congress appropriated 7½ million dollars to resume construction of the Tuttle Creek Reservoir, north of Manhattan.

For the rest of this year, under the new five-year program the association voted to support appropriations for these projects:

To begin construction of local protection works for Salina, Topeka, and Abilene in Kansas.

To continue planning for the Pomona reservoir and local protection for Manhattan and Ottawa and to begin planning for local protection for Lawrence, Kan.

To begin construction of the Pomme de Terre dam in Missouri and to initiate planning for the Rathbun Dam in Iowa.

To support upriver projects and bureau of reclamation projects.

The program for next year includes continued support of work initiated this year plus these projects:

Planning for reservoirs near Malvern in Kansas and Kasinger Bluffs on the Osage River near Warsaw, Mo.

Begin construction of local protection at Ottawa, Kan., and a reservoir at Pomona.

No action was taken at the opening session on a proposal to change the name to the Missouri-Kansas Flood Control Association.

Six Federal Reserve Banks Hike Interest To Prevent Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve, seeking to head off possible inflation, has screwed the lid down tighter on the rapidly swelling demand for credit.

Its success—or lack of success—in preventing inflation may have much to do with whether you get a tax cut next year.

The Federal Reserve Board approved, effective today, a move by six additional reserve banks to boost their discount rate from 2 to 2½ per cent. That is the rate at which they lend money to member commercial banks, which in turn lend to businessmen and others.

The action was taken by the reserve banks of New York, Richmond, Chicago, Kansas City, Dallas and San Francisco. It made the 2½ per cent rate effective in 10 of the 12 reserve districts. Only the Boston and Minneapolis reserve banks are still lending at 2 per cent.

ways by riding three and four abreast, zig-zagging back and forth in the street in front of on-coming traffic. This is not only dangerous to the riders, but results in a great problem for the driver of a motor vehicle who try to protect the kids as well as himself.

There are city ordinances governing the use, riding, and number of riders on any bicycle. It has become a state whereby the Police Department is being compelled to start a program of "crack-down" on offenders of the bicycle ordinance.

Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors stated, "We do not want to cause these boys and girls any trouble about riding their bicycles. We do not desire to put punishment on offenders. We do not like to have to resort to the 'get tough' attitude on bicycle riders. But the situation has grown into a state where we must 'clamp down' and see that boys and girls, adults too, ride properly for their own safety."

"We haven't had a traffic 'leash' in Sedalia for some time, especially among school children," Chief Neighbors said, "and if there is any way possible to avoid such deaths, I'll see to it. These laws are enforced for the good of everyone. We go along on various ordinances, but when violations become such as they are now, these people force us, to force them to be more careful."

"These traffic ordinances were drafted for the safety of everyone, although some think they were passed just to offend someone. This is far from being true and one of our first motto's at police headquarters is 'SAFETY' and if enforcement offends anyone, it is just too bad. On the other hand it might save the life of the person offended as well as someone's else," Chief Neighbors concluded.

Under the traffic ordinances, only one person is to ride a bicycle unless built and equipped for two and must be ridden properly; persons shall not ride more than two abreast except on specially constructed bicycle paths, and where these paths are built must not ride in the roadway; no person riding a bicycle shall cling or attach himself to a moving vehicle on any roadway; no person shall ride a bicycle on the sidewalk of the business district; all bicycles shall be equipped with a bell or device capable of giving a signal but not a siren; must have brakes, and when in use at night must have a headlamp and with a red reflector on the rear visible from all distances from 50 to 3000 feet to the rear.

The ordinance also provided for an operator of a bicycle to emerge from an alley or driveway with caution, yield the right-of-way to all pedestrians approaching on a sidewalk, walk area and upon entering the roadway yield the right-of-way to all vehicles approaching on said roadway. No person shall carry any package, bundle or article.

Rioting Breaks Out At Nebraska Prison

LINCOLN, Neb., (AP) — Rioting broke out among inmates at the Nebraska Men's Reformatory this afternoon, about 24 hours after the institution's superintendent had been fired and replaced.

Prisoners were reported running through the grounds with iron bars and wooden staves.

One shot was heard, and an inmate, Luis Morales, 28, San Antonio, Tex., was carried out on a stretcher.

Inmates had been on a sitdown strike all morning, according to Harold Peterson administrative assistant to the State Board of Control, which supervises penal institutions.

Two New Ports Are Made Idle By Labor Acts

Norfolk and Boston Harbors are Vacant In Sympathy Moves

NEW YORK (AP)—Two more ports — Norfolk, Va., and Boston — were idled today in the outgrowth of a New York waterfront strike, but longshoremen in Philadelphia and Baltimore were back at work.

The New York harbor walkout went into its third day while shipping firms and the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission tried to get the men back to work by court action.

Scores of ships were idle and cargoes were piling up on piers. Some 70 ships were tied up in New York harbor.

The strike has immobilized 20 million dollars a day in export and import shipments on the New York-New Jersey waterfront alone.

The Independent International Longshoremen's Assn., already has ignored one temporary restraining order issued since some 25,000 men walked off the New York-New Jersey piers Wednesday.

The employers, the 170-member New York Shipping Assn., charge that since no labor dispute exists, the IILA is trying to coerce them into fighting the avowed IILA target: the bistate agency set up two years ago to police the piers.

The association also goes to the State Supreme Court today to ask a contempt citation against the union which, if granted, could result in a heavy fine.

In walking out, the IILA further defied an 18-month-old state court injunction banning a strike aimed against activities of the Waterfront Commission.

IILA President William V. Bradley charged yesterday that the association and the commission have connived to "break up our union and any union on the waterfront."

The union contends the two-member commission has used harsh and discriminatory measures against dock workers—including misuse of subpoena powers, harassing longshoremen with previous criminal records, and generally overstepping its authority. The commission, in denying all the allegations, has accused union leadership of "lawlessness and goonism."

Second Murder Casts Light On First One

ROCKAWAY, Ore., (AP) — Huber Frederick Camell, 30, got away with one slaying five months ago but tripped when he committed his second, Dist. Atty. John Hathaway reported today.

Camell was arrested three days ago after his neighbor and one-time friend Clyde Lewis, 55, had been shot to death. A chance observer had seen a man walk to Lewis' house with a rifle, and the description led to Camell.

Camell readily admitted the slaying and was charged with first-degree murder, the district attorney said.

That's when Police Chief Delbert H. Walpole began to wonder about the death of Mrs. Lewis last May. The record showed Mrs. Lewis, a semi-invalid, died of a heart attack during which she fell from her wheel chair and bled to death.

Walpole had the woman's body removed from the grave.

Examination disclosed the woman had been shot by a small-caliber bullet, which entered between the right eyeball and eyelid and left almost no mark.

Hathaway said Camell then admitted that shooting also. What's more, he said he thought everyone knew about it. But since no one had done anything about it, he decided to go ahead with the shooting of Lewis, the district attorney related.

"It was God's will I killed these people," Hathaway quoted Camell as saying. He said Camell apparently had been brooding for some time about "small things" that had come up between him and his neighbors.

Trial Date Sept. 19 In Negro Boy's Death

SUMNER, Miss., (AP) — Two white men will go to trial Sept. 19 on indictments charging that they murdered Emmett Louis Till, 14-year-old Chicago Negro.

Circuit Judge Curtis Swango set the date this morning. The trial will begin on the first day of the final week of a three-week court term in Tallahatchie County.

Both defense attorneys and Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham had urged a speedy trial.

A special jury panel of 125 men will be drawn for the case.

The two, Roy Bryant, 24, of Money, Miss., and his half-brother, J. W. Milam, 36, of Glendora, Ala., admitted Till from the farm of his uncle, but deny killing him.

Adenauer Presses Kremlin To Release German Inmates

STOP FIRE WITH FIRE—California State forestry firefighters set a back fire just west of Hawkinsville, Calif., in an effort to stop a forest fire from destroying Yreka, with 3500 residents. Their efforts were successful when the flames were halted four and one-half miles from the town. Almost 170 square miles of California forest lands have been destroyed by week-long fires. ## Red Chinese Agree Today On Releases

Final Details May Be Set at Meeting Of Ambassadors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Red China were reported at the point of final agreement today on the release of Americans held behind the Bamboo Curtain.

There are 25 Americans known to have been in Chinese Communist jails for several years and 3 persons under house arrest. In addition there are others whose status is uncertain.

An announcement on final agreement may come from Geneva, Switzerland, when U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Chinese Ambassador Wang Pin-nan meet tomorrow.

Diplomats said that barring some last minute hitch in plans there was a good chance the final details for release of the Americans would be worked out.

It is understood here that the agreement so far developed covers these basic points:

1. Red China's assurances that all Americans who wish to leave Chinese Communist jurisdiction will be permitted to do so "expeditiously," subject to Chinese Communist judicial processes. This apparently means that those in jail will be subject to court action providing for parole, deportation or other action which would allow them to leave China.

The final accord has been delayed while the United States sought to obtain a clearer idea of what the Chinese Reds mean by the release of the Americans "expeditiously."

2. United States assurances that Chinese in this country who wish to leave and go to Red China are being permitted to do so. This has been the declared American policy for months. At issue are some Chinese students, sent here by Nationalist China, who have said they wish to go to the Red mainland but who have not left the United States.

3. Designation of the Indian Embassy to represent on a humanitarian basis the interest of any Chinese in the United States who might feel they could not get a fair break by making arrangements directly with American authorities for going to Red China.

4. Employment of the offices of the British Embassy in Red China to protect the interests of Americans there on a basis similar to that provided for the use of Indian Embassy services in the United States.

Once the issue of the release of the Americans is out of the way the Geneva talks can proceed to item two that was agreed upon as a subject for discussion.

Item two was stated as "other practical matters at issue between the two sides."

The Chinese might bring up such matters, under this heading, as their desire for greater trade with the Western nations.

Oregon Polio Success

PORTLAND, Ore., (AP)—Polio vaccine is a "spectacular success" in Oregon, the State Board of Health reported yesterday after reviewing the first 35 weeks of the year. The polio rate among unvaccinated children in the 5 to 9 age group was 35 per 100,000 population and 6 per 100,000 for those vaccinated.

Defense Never Better—

Radford Denies Military Reductions Are Drastic

DENVER (AP)—Adm. Arthur W. Radford said after a conference with President Eisenhower today "there will be no changes in the basic military program" calling for defense spending of about 37½ billion dollars this fiscal year.

Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told newsmen that reports of a cut contemplated in that program "are not correct."

Radford, Eisenhower's top military advisor, also differed with former President Truman. A reporter told him that Truman, in a Chicago speech today, had said the Eisenhower administration was making "unjustified and most dangerous cuts" in the nation's military power.

"I don't know of any such actions and I think I would know about them," Radford replied, adding that he wanted to make it clear that he had not read Truman's speech.

"I think we have basically a very sound military program," Radford said. "From the standpoint of security, the country was never better off."

Radford came to Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here to discuss national security problems. He declined to go into any detail about those problems, but did say, in response to a question, that he and the President did talk some about military spending.

Radford added that he also discussed that matter with Secretary of Defense Wilson in Detroit yesterday.

He said he and Wilson discussed the possibility of trimming defense spending next year, but he recalled that Wilson told Congress earlier this year that he looked for military spending to continue in the neighborhood of at least 34 billion dollars a year "for an indefinite time." Radford said today he sees it that way, too.

His statement that "there will be no changes in the basic military program" was prompted by a reporter's question about published reports that the Pentagon was contemplating an expenditure reduction of about a billion dollars.

In calling those reports "not correct," Radford went on to say that "we are continuously looking" for ways to save money.

He also declared that usually some of the money available is not spent. He said he looks for spending this year of more than 34 billion dollars, "but I don't think anybody can tell" just how much more.

Radford said his conference with

Truman Counsels Military Strength Despite Red Letup

CHICAGO (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said today the Communist countries seem to be taking a more peaceful course but that America "must keep up its guard until it is sure."

He decried cuts he said the Eisenhower administration is making in the military establishment. His own administration, he said, began a buildup of the armed forces that "has had much to do with bringing about the attitude of apparent reasonableness on the part of the Communists."

"If we value peace and freedom, we must be strong," he said in an address prepared for the Executives' Club of Chicago, a predominantly Republican group.

His text, primarily about foreign policy, did not refer to President Eisenhower or the Republican party by name.

He Seeks To Start Process Normalization

MOSCOW (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called on the Soviet Union's top leaders to release German war prisoners held in Russia as a prelude to "normalization" of relations between their two countries.

Opening his historic first meeting with the Kremlin command, Adenauer also pleaded with Soviet Premier Bulganin, Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Foreign Minister Molotov to "dedicate all your energies" to speedy conclusion with the Western Big Three of an agreement to reunify Germany.

Bulganin in reply ignored the question of the war prisoners. On reunification, he repeated the Russian claim that West German membership in NATO and the Western European Union formed the big barrier to reunion of West and East Germany.

The Soviet Premier urged the establishment of normal diplomatic relations between the two governments, asserting that closer contacts thus established would help in finding a solution to the unification problem.

Seated across from the Russian leaders at a long white-covered table in the white marble and gold hall of Spiridonovka Palace, Adenauer asserted: "It is unthinkable to establish normal relations between our states so long as this question of the prisoners remains unsolved."

Adenauer said in asking release of the prisoners, he was not making a "precondition," but rather underlining an essential to the "normalization" of relations the Soviets had listed as the purpose of his trip to Moscow.

"It is an unbearable thought that more than 10 years after the end of hostilities, human beings who one way or another were drawn into the maelstrom of war events should be kept away from their families, their homes and their normal, peaceful work," he declared.

The West German government claims that nearly 100,000 Germans are still in Soviet custody. The Russians and the East German Communist government insist the number is less than 5,000.

"The division of Germany is abnormal," Adenauer continued firmly. "Let us try to make a step forward in this question during our talks. Otherwise we face danger that a center of objection, of tension of the first magnitude, will continue to exist in the heart of Europe."

"There is no genuine security in Europe without establishment of Germany," he declared.

Adenauer told the Russians that the current talks would be only the first of a long series which would be necessary to arrange relations between the Soviet Union and West Germany.

The remainder of the parade will continue on to the Smith-Cotton High School where the business meeting will start at 2:45 followed by the ceremonial session at 3:15, the installation at 4 p. m. and the ceremonial dinner at the high school cafeteria at 5:30 p. m.

Convict Ends 18 Long Years Of Silence

MCALISTER, Okla. (AP)—From that moment in 1934 when John A. Cane pointed to the spot where he buried his slain family, he vowed a life of silence. For 18 long years as a convict at Oklahoma State Penitentiary, he kept his vow.

The incredible story of the prisoner who wouldn't talk was revealed yesterday. He decided to talk in hopes of winning a parole. It was told by reporters for the Tulsa Tribune, which said it agreed to keep the secret learned in June 1952.

Former Warden Jerome Waters said Cane was arrested a few days after his wife and three children disappeared from their home. After questioning, he broke down and admitted killing them and burying their bodies in shallow graves. He took officers to the spot.

From that moment on, he refused to say another word. The 61-year-old convict said in an interview that "I made up my mind I'd never say another word and decided I'd play I couldn't hear."

The vow of silence was broken after Cane was told at a mental hospital where he was taken for a sanity hearing that he would not get a parole if he did not talk. He also was warned he wouldn't be able to talk.

When he was returned to prison, other inmates were told he had undergone surgery to restore his speech and hearing.

It was feared that Cane, considered a "dummy" by the other prisoners, might be in danger if prisoners discovered he had been able to hear things they had said in his presence. But Cane, who consented to the interview, apparently was unworried on that score.

Kiwanis Speaker Says--

American People Have Grown Too Accustomed to Miracles

Americans have become so accustomed to industrial miracles that they are in danger of forgetting what makes them possible, Robert T. DeVore, Chicago, Midwest district manager of the Du Pont Company's extension division, said in his talk, "Progress Must Be Created." He spoke at the Thursday meeting of the Kiwanis Club.

"The danger today," he said, "is that, in taking for granted the progress we have made, we may lose touch with the sources of our national strength and prosperity. If ever we, as a nation, come to believe that our position in the world today is simply an accident of time, climate and natural resources, the decline of America will be well advanced. The danger is that we shall forget that progress must be continuously created, and will forget the means by which America does continuously create it."

DeVore pointed out that to maintain and improve the standard of living of a rapidly growing population requires that the productive capacity of the individual be increased, and that this becomes increasingly difficult as the operation of our American economic system is interfered with.

"The productivity of American industry has been multiplied by the magnificent use of technology," he said. "Technology is simply the system, more highly developed in this country than any other, by which business management, supported by the invested money of many people, organizes industrial teams of men and women with skills in the sciences, in plant design and construction, in production, in sales, and human relations."

"Working together they translate ideas generated in research laboratories into new products or improved manufacturing methods. By this means they create new industries, new jobs, new opportunities for existing businesses, new wealth for everyone."

This process, he said, could be driving a 1955 Chevrolet sedan following behind the tractor-trailer saw the incident and jammed on his brakes to keep from hitting the tractor.

Raymond Nelson, 1700 West Main, was following behind Rowland in his 1949 Chevrolet sedan. He reported he noticed the red stop lights on the car suddenly blink and he tried to come to a stop but was unable to do so quickly enough to avoid the accident.

The left rear fender and tail light on the Rowland car were damaged and the front end of the Nelson vehicle damaged. The truck was not hit.

Both cars were damaged in a two car accident at the intersection of Broadway and Engineer about 3:18 p.m. Thursday. A 1940 Chevrolet driven by Lathus Landis, Route 2, was going east on Broadway, and a 1948 truck driven by Roy Williams, Route 2, was traveling west on Broadway when the mishap occurred. Damage to the Chevrolet was on the right front fender, and damage to the truck was to the right side.

Police made an investigation.

Fires In The City

The fire companies at 4:05 a.m. Friday were called to Puckett's Cafe, Second and Lamine, where grease on the griddle had caught fire. No damage resulted.

The case of the City of Sedalia against George Anson, taken to the Circuit Court on an appeal, was reset for Dec. 1.

TV With a Kick

DALLAS (AP)—I. B. Butler today told police a thief broke into his home last night and carried off his 21-inch television set.

Tire Smoothie A Phony, Too

Sizing up a person to determine whether he's true blue or a phony is almost second nature to those making new acquaintances. Facial features, mannerisms and dress are very often dead giveaways to the discerning, and disclose whether certain characters are what they pretend.

Now it seems this sizing up technique has gotten into the realm of safety on the highways. Over in Pennsylvania where I lived when they started building the Pennsylvania Turnpike the death rate has been climbing so fast that harassed officials have decided worn tires are a major cause of accidents.

So from now on tires will be sized up just like you size up a person. A shiny automobile wearing a set of worn out tires will be looked upon with suspicion just the same as a woman with a pretty dress wearing a pair of dilapidated shoes.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike officials have determined to inspect tires when a motorist drives onto the turnpike. If the tires aren't in satisfactory condition, the motorist will have to get off the turnpike and find some other way to reach his destination.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Nazi Collaborator Held in San Antonio

(Editor's Note—While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation his column is being written by members of his staff.)

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON—A stranger-than-fiction story lies behind the arrest in San Antonio of a mysterious Frenchman who has gone by many names but is under death sentence in France as Antoine D'Agostino.

He is an international dope smuggler, a key figure in the shadowy underworld organization known as the Mafia. During World War II, he worked with the Nazis to undermine French health and morale with narcotics. He was later tried in absentia and sentenced to death for treason.

D'Agostino is wanted in half a dozen other countries from Europe to Canada for narcotics violations. He was picked up by federal agents in this country the moment he landed in San Antonio after hopping across the Mexican border.

The full story of his arrest cannot be told. It can be said, however, that the fabulous Frenchman did not come here of his own choosing. Our narcotics agents tipped off Mexican authorities that he was using their country as a base for smuggling dope into the United States and Canada. The Mexicans quietly hustled him on a plane bound for San Antonio.

It is enough to say that the federal narcotics boys knew he was coming. D'Agostino got off the plane wailing about being kidnapped. Meanwhile, a ruthless, but unpublicized international criminal is cooling his heels in the San Antonio clinic.

Note: Texas Sen. Price Daniel, chairman of the Senate narcotics investigating committee, is working with state and federal authorities on the D'Agostino case. Needless to say, the French would also like to get their hands on him.

With the cold war thawing, today's forgotten man is the serviceman who is still on guard around the world, often neglected by Congress and the taxpayers.

The Third Marine Division, for example, has

Rising Political Star

The youthful, handsome and popular bachelor, Governor Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey is content to be governor of the Garden State at least until 1960, when he may or may not be a presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket.

He hopes to be re-elected governor in 1957 and his chances look good. He made no great promises in his first whirlwind election campaign but he has moved steadily forward on a constructive program in his state. He has shown courage and independent thinking in his non-partisan appointments, but has also healed many breaches in his own party.

Bob Meyner cannot help being in the spotlight. He is outstanding in any audience whether at home or on the national scene. His natural charm and ability as a speaker and his knowledge of law, history, and statecraft makes him much in demand as a public speaker from coast to coast. He is a student of Woodrow Wilson, whose path led from the governorship of New Jersey to the White House. Whether Governor Meyner has similar ambitions remains to be seen. He just can't help it if people like him—he is such a likeable fellow.

Guest Editorial—

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR: Phonetic Phonetic Again. The Chicago Tribune has gone back to conventional spelling — almost. After 75 years of tilting at traditional orthography, the self-styled "World's Greatest Newspaper," now that Col. Robert C. McCormick has passed away, has negotiated a conditional surrender with a worldwide fact; custom will not be rushed.

To be sure it is more logical to write about railway frate instead of railway freight, about a timely fotograf instead of photograph, and to call for a tariff on soder instead of a tariff on solder. It would be more logical, also, if American men didn't wear coats and colored shirts to the office in July and American women didn't go shopping in fur jackets and open-toed shoes in January. But they do.

So, also, do the English-speaking peoples draw a bow or take a bow in the bow of a ship, and find it well to dig a well when in search of water.

This may sound like a high-handed method to apply to motorists but if that is what it takes to cut down on the traffic murders then we ought to encourage those officials who have the fortitude to get tough with motorists who operate vehicles that have no business on the highways, especially with smooth tires.

Who may argue that smooth tires are not a source of highway danger? A driver is in trouble if he's caught without brakes working properly, yet brakes are related to tires in an emergency stop. Primarily, however, smooth tires on a fast highway like the turnpike are blowout hazards.

Indeed, tires can be killers. The fact that this is beginning to be recognized in Pennsylvania should cause us Missourians to take notice and respond to inspection suggestions.

Of course garage and filling station service men may be in business to sell tires and suggest you buy them, but maybe we should pay more attention to their sales talk than we have been doing heretofore.

Smooth tires are just as phony as smooth individuals. It's time to trade them off and make new friends with sounder treads.

just been crammed into barracks that the Army had condemned and abandoned on bleak Okinawa. The Marines live in gunset butts that leak when it rains and heat up like bake ovens when the sun shines. Some 60 to 80 men are crowded into each hut, living in such sticky closeness that the quarters stink like slave ships.

Housing facilities at some Air Force bases are also so atrocious that pilots have been forced to rent homes as much as two hours away from the fields. This has led Gen. Nathan Twining, Air Force chief, to warn: "We could only get about half the fighter planes in the air during the first two hours after an alert."

Congressional pennypinching can be blamed for most inadequate military housing. In some cases, however, the housing contracts have become snarled in red tape.

For example, the Air Force awarded a contract to construct housing at 23 key air warning stations to the William Rouse Company, Falls Church, Va. Because of minor mistakes in the original bid, the Beacon Construction Company of Boston protested the award.

This has started a chain of protests and appeals all the way to the comptroller general's office. Meanwhile, the personnel at these 23 vital warning posts are living either in miserable housing or else off base. This leaves holes in our warning system through which enemy planes conceivably could fly.

Housewife, Homemaker

A group of curious Britishers on behalf of the Nuffield Foundation to investigate farming conditions in the United States decided to ask a group of American women whether they preferred to be called housewife or homemaker. Strange to say, the majority of the women preferred the term "housewife," which according to Webster means "married to a house" while homemaker means "creator of a home."

If the base had been broader the homemaker would surely have won. Even the Britishers who asked the questions believed that homemaker was the term most women liked. Some modest women admitted that homemaker implied more dignity and sounded more polite, but that no matter by what name she was called, she was just as tired cooking, cleaning, taking care of husband and family and the glamour of homemaker just didn't exist.

With or without the glamour, the wife and mother who does all the household chores is entitled — if she wants to herself — say she is the household drudge and married to the house. But she knows many rewarding moments when the term homemaker is far more suitable. There would not be much of a home if it were not for the housewife who truly is the one who creates the home. It is within her power to create the place to which and be the person to whom the husband wants to come home. Then home will be the place where the children feel happy and secure.

'Little Elsie' Movie

"Little Elsie" is going to be a movie. Not Elsie, the famous Borden's cow, not Elsie Dinsmore, that goody-goody storybook child of a few generations ago, but Elsie Janis, that sweetheart of the A.E.F. in World War I.

Only the grandparents of today will remember her as the first entertainer to go to the front to cheer up the boys in the first World War. The story of Elsie Janis can make a great motion picture. It will be built around her devotion to her mother, who always traveled with her; her role as an imitator; her rollicking songs; her boisterous laughter; her versatile talents; and her genuine affection for her audiences and her ability to make them laugh with her and at her in addition to the beautiful and true love story of her life.

Like her contemporaries, Ethel Barrymore and Laurette Taylor, she will bring a great past to life.

Empire Began to Die 20 Years Ago Sat.

By James Marlow

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — An empire began to die, just a little bit, around 4 a.m., 20 years ago tomorrow. It was Sen. Huey Long's political empire in Louisiana.

It began to die, I think, in Our Lady of the Lake Hospital in Baton Rouge a moment after Long himself died there from a bullet wound, and before he was cold. I was in the hospital at the time.

On Sunday night, Sept. 8, 1935, he walked down a hallway of the Louisiana State Capitol accompanied as always by his bodyguards, who later said this is what happened then.

Dr. Carl Austin Weiss, a physician, walked up to Long and shot him. The bodyguards rushed Weiss to death on the spot. Long was taken to the nearby hospital and died there at 4:10 a.m., Tuesday, Sept. 10.

Long's was the most complete political machine in America in our time. He controlled it, from the State Legislature and the state police on down to the sheriffs.

It was terrible power for one man to have. And Long's bodyguards, who were on the state payroll, were the symbol of it.

They had a long record of beating up reporters and photographers who worked for newspapers Long didn't like. Their assaults varied from fracturing a skull with a blackjack to smashing a face with a fist.

The ones they hated most were reporters on the New Orleans Times-Picayune, which had fought Long for years. It was a perilous expedition for one of them to approach Long to ask a question or take a picture.

The newspaper finally ordered them not to try. George Healy, then city editor and now editor of the T-P, recalled this week over long-distance telephone: "For a while the beatings averaged two or three a month."

I worked on the T-P then and early on the morning of Sept. 10, when we heard Long was slipping, I was sent to the hospital to keep a death watch. Arrangements were made with the hospital to let me in.

I couldn't have gone in, otherwise. Bodyguards stood shoulder to shoulder on the hospital steps. Thirty or 40 of them sat in the chairs in the hospital lobby, and two more endlessly went around trying the doors in the basement and examining the hallways.

They seemed afraid, even with Long dying, that one of his many enemies might break in or sneak in to finish off the senator on his deathbed.

Another reporter and I were allowed a telephone in a small office next to the lobby. Long was upstairs in a room on the second floor. We couldn't go up. The guards watched us steadily.

A woman reporter, friendly with the bodyguards, sat outside our office. We sat out there too to see what happened in the lobby. Around 3 a.m., Long's family and his chief lieutenants came in hurriedly and went upstairs.

At 4:10 a.m. or a little later one of Long's men from upstairs came down. I don't know whether he gave the bodyguards a sign or they saw something in his face. But they jumped to their feet.

The Long man leaned over the woman reporter to whisper. I tried to hear. He said:

"Get back, you." I got back. But I heard him say: "He's dead." I had to be sure and the only place to be sure was on the second floor.

I ran for the stairs. The whole lobbyful of guards ran for the stairs. I was squeezed in tight, trying to go up. I couldn't move. I thought: "This is where I get it." A strange thing happened.

The bodyguards who an hour before might have thrown me down the stairs fell back and let me through. No one said anything to me. We all went up the stairs together, walking, no running, with me in front.

Later, I thought: Long had been their link with the fantastic political machine which was their protection and their bread and butter. And now he was dead and the link was broken.

In the rush to the stairs they acted for the first time without Long around to guide and save them in whatever they did and, without him, suddenly they felt alone, each of them individually, and uncertain.

Their power had been diminished and it was diminished more as time went on.

As Sedalia Sees It—

Bright Outlook in Missouri's Butter-Cheese Production

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Democrat-Capital
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — There is considerable bright news in the Missouri and U. S. Dairy situation. Last year, thanks in major part to effective dairy merchandising, Americans consumed almost 67 billion pounds of dairy foods. This amounted to around 410 pounds per person.

Milk production on the farm in 1954 reached 123.5 billion pounds. Actually it exceeded human consumption by only 28 quarts of milk per person. Statisticians here say that just about an extra "gulp" of milk per person would have handled it.

The average American in 1954 consumed 164 quarts of fluid milk and cream, and 4.6 pounds of non-fat dry milk solids.

As to cheese, the average American ate 7.7 pounds and 9 pounds of butter.

Last year production of American cheese totaled more than a billion pounds, the highest, incidentally, in 37 years. And Americans are eating more cheese. A century ago Americans ate only about 4½ pounds a year.

Many in Missouri might be surprised that last year 60 million pounds of butter were produced and 84 million pounds of American cheese. This can't approach the production of Wisconsin but Missouri is in the top bracket of state figures.

Rally Day Is Planned For Sunday

Sunday will be observed at the First Baptist Church as Rally Day in the Sunday School, worship services and Training Union. Goal for Sunday School attendance is 600. The Training Union goal will be 125.

The pastor's subject for Sunday morning will be "What It Means to Rally," and in the evening "Two Views of Life." At the morning hour Chester O'Bannon will sing a special number. There will also be special music at the evening service.

This week will be observed as Intermediate Emphasis Week. All the intermediate girls and boys, ages 13 to 16, are included in the program of emphasis. Among their plans for the week will be a picnic on Monday at Liberty Park, to take charge of the mid-week worship on Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. At 7:30 Thursday evening there will be a party at the home of David Sheridan 1025 East 24th. The week will be brought to a climax on Sunday, Sept. 18, when the group will be striving for 100 per cent attendance in Sunday School.

Harmony Association, under the leadership of Mrs. Charles Hoffmann, is planning a Royal Ambassador Conclave Sept. 16-17 at the First Baptist Church. The meeting will open with an adult conference at the First Baptist Chapel, 16th and Hancock, at 7:30 Friday evening. The meeting will be continued on Saturday with the registration beginning at 10 a. m. for Junior and Intermediate boys. There will be a picnic at noon on Saturday at Liberty Park. Willis Griffin, State Royal Ambassador leader, will be here to lend his assistance.

March 17 is the traditional day on which St. Patrick died; many people suppose it to be the anniversary of his birth.

Sunday School Lesson Notes:

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
When many of the Jews returned from their seventy-year exile from Babylon to Jerusalem and their Palestine homeland, only a beginning of the restoration was accomplished.

Ahead of them lay a great task of rebuilding, with unforeseen dangers and problems of conquest. In the great Exile to Babylon not all the Jews were carried off; the king, the court, craftsmen; all those of prominence were exiled. But a remnant, "the poor of the land," farmers, vine-dressers and others were allowed to remain.

During the seventy years of Exile those who remained seem to have done little to restore Jerusalem and its environment, materially or religiously. It was the report of the deplorable conditions in the holy city that had so saddened Nehemiah, and that had led to the Babylonian King's permission for the great return (Nehemiah 2).

But instead of finding a welcome in their homeland, the returnees found themselves strongly opposed by the non-exiles, who saw their place and power threatened. Under a leader, Sanballat, they did everything they could to frustrate the plans and purposes of Nehemiah.

It was under these circumstances that Nehemiah's true greatness appeared.

Calvary Baptists Extend Indefinite Call to Rev. Morgan

The Calvary Baptist Church in business session last Wednesday evening voted unanimously to extend an indefinite call to the Rev. William Morgan to become assistant pastor in charge of the North Grand Ave. Baptist Mission which is sponsored by the church. Rev. Morgan, who has been the pastor of the Bethlehem Baptist church, south of Sedalia, for more than five years, is expected to begin his work Oct. 1. The Rev. H. W. Chaney, missionary for Harmony Baptist Association, will fill the pulpit during September. The Rev. Wright Thomas, former pastor of the mission, resigned Aug. 28.

peared. We see him in Babylon, an exile, but with a deep love of Zion in his heart, and a yearning to see the glory of Israel restored. We see him as an organizer and man of action, leader in the long return march, encouraging and inspiring his followers. And now, in the greatest crisis of all, we see him as an indomitable warrior as well, refusing to allow anything to divert him from his purpose.

It is an inspiring picture that the Book of Nehemiah presents of a builder and warrior, as shrewd in frustrating the wiles of his enemies as he was bold and brave in opposing their violence.

His words, when Sanballat wanted him to confer and parley, stand as a great heroic motto. He would not leave the building and the wall, "I am doing a great work, so that I cannot come down."

I suppose that in a sense it is to the disgrace of religion that it has never conquered war or the war spirit. But it is to the credit of religion that zealous warriors have fought against violence and evil. That we are still in a warlike world is due, not to the Nehemiahs, but to the Sanballats of opposition and destruction.

Though my father had been a soldier on active duty, I grew up in a home where the love of peace was intense. My sympathies have wavered at times between the non-resistant lovers of peace, and the intimate friends (one was the first Canadian to receive the Victoria Cross, posthumously, and a cousin flew and fought throughout the first World War) who have fought heroically for what they believed to be right.

Though spiritual forces can do much against violence and evil I believe it is as futile to abandon physical opposition to physical violence as it would be to oppose epidemics of disease with lectures on health or healthful wishes.

During one of our wars a song was written that began: "Somebody had to walk in front, so he did; somebody had to bear the brunt, so he did." So, though I love peace with all my heart, I honor the Nehemiahs, of old and of our own time, who have walked in front and borne the brunt of evil.

Turns Attention To Church Name Change Proposal

HONOLULU (P)—The 53th General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, having made several moves to soften its attacks on the Roman Catholic Church in South America, today turns its attention to a proposal to change the church name.

There has been a move to drop the word "Protestant" from the name. The matter normally develops sharp debate, one convention source said.

Less than three hours before the Rt. Rev. Egmont M. Kirschke, bishop of southwest Brazil, was to address a foreign mission meeting last night, the church's public relations office announced there would be several revisions in his prepared text because of "an unfortunate choice of words which gave a false impression."

The revisions deleted all reference by name to the Roman Catholic Church and toned down the speech to some extent. One phrase in the prepared text declared "Latin peoples have been nurtured in an extremely debased form of Christianity. They are religiously undernourished."

This was changed to "Latin peoples are religiously undernourished."

'The Quest and Test' Is Soxman's Subject

Will Discuss 'Mark, Action, Evangelism'

"Mark, Action and Evangelism" will be the sermon subject Sunday morning of Dr. Leonard Reifel, pastor of the First Congregational-Central Presbyterian Church. Miss Gladys Reed will sing "The Holy City" by Adams. Consecration of the Fisherman's Club will be conducted.

Judge Visits Home For Citizenship Oath

CAMDEN, N. J. (P)—Illness three times previously had prevented Mrs. Ermina Ciotti, 77, from getting her final papers to become a citizen.

Yesterday she was again scheduled to receive the papers and to take the oath—and once again she was ill.

Federal Judge Thomas H. Madden, learning of her plight, went to her home and administered the oath.

Mrs. Ciotti, who came from Rome about 40 years ago, sat through the ceremony grasping a small American flag. She said afterwards "I am so very happy."

Brooklyn Speculates Over Opponent For Series But Will Not Let Up Now

Dodgers Want The Yankees But Feel Indians Will Draw Better, Big Stadium

MILWAUKEE (AP)—What makes the most money will be the most fun, come World Series time, the old pros of the Brooklyn Dodgers figured last night after breaking their own record for nailing down the National League pennant early.

The Dodgers clinched the senior circuit flag yesterday with a whopping 10-2 decision over the second-place Milwaukee Braves, and promptly started counting the potential house at the series.

"Of course we'd like to have another crack at those Yankees," third base veteran Jackie Robinson said. "But this is our business. They can get more people in that park at Cleveland."

And Pee Wee Reese, who's been in five series — and lost all five to the Yanks — said, "Sure I'd like to beat the Yankees this time . . . if I thought we could beat them."

But, the Dodger captain added, "maybe we'd be better off to play Cleveland instead. They've got that big park and they're not so sure they can win."

Manager Walt Alton found a quiet corner away from the glare of the television and movie lights in the Dodger dressing room yesterday and said that Reese and Robinson pretty well stated the case.

"They'd like to play Cleveland because of that big park," Alton said, "and they'd like to play the Yankees because the Yanks have given us such a trimming before."

Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooks, bustled in to pay respects to his new champions.

No, O'Malley said with a wave of the big cigar, there wasn't any change in the one-year-at-a-time rule he'd set up for hiring Alton. And no, he hadn't talked about 1956 with him as yet.

"But," he said, "I don't think there's any doubt in his mind."

Lightweights Contending At Garden Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Cuba's veteran Orlando Zulueta and flashy Cisco Andrade of Compton, Calif., match talented left hands today in a 10-round battle of lightweight contender at Madison Square Garden.

Ninth-ranked Andrade, 25, is a 7-5 favorite over fifth-ranked Zulueta, 27.

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 8 p. m., CST.

Andrade (29-2-1) has the better record but the slender Zulueta (54-22-10) has more experience and has met the division's top talent in the past few years.

Brooklyn Takes Flag In Earliest Time Yet

By E. WILKS
The Associated Press

Brooklyn's pennant victory is the earliest ever in the National League, but in the American, one or two of the contenders may find it's later than they think after the next three pressure-packed days.

The Dodgers made it with a 10-2 thrashing of Milwaukee, erasing their own league record for an early clinching set Sept. 12, 1953.

The frenzied American League battle, however, now jumps into its most crucial three days yet.

The Chicago White Sox and New York Yankees open a two-game set in Yankee Stadium today while the first-place Cleveland Indians begin a two-game series at Boston.

Sunday, Chicago moves to Boston and Cleveland visits New York in a pair of double-headers.

The burden is on the White Sox and the Red Sox. Both lost vital ground yesterday while Cleveland and New York reeled off victories.

The Indians beat Baltimore 5-3 in 10 innings, maintaining their half-game lead over the Yanks, who walloped Kansas City 13-0.

But the White Sox were jarred 2½ games behind by Washington 5-4 and Boston, after winning six straight, slipped four games back with a 5-4 defeat by Detroit.

Cleveland stayed out front with four unearned runs. Larry Doby's 26th homer, leading off the 10th to break a 3-3 tie, provided the Tribe with an untainted run.

Baltimore pushed over a run in the ninth, off Ray Narleski, the Tribe's fourth pitcher, as the Indians missed what was supposed to have been a game-ending double play.

The Yanks had no such anxious moments. Bob Turley five-hit the A's for his fifth shutout and 15th triumph and Yogi Berra belted a pair of three-run homers. Kansas City kicked in four errors, giving New York six unearned runs on their nine hits.

The Senators chased Virgil Trucks with two runs that won it in the seventh. Ernie Oravetz, who earlier had given the White Sox two runs on fielding errors, brought home the winning run with a sacrifice fly after three singles in the seventh.

Mickey Vernon's two-run homer cut Chicago's lead to 4-3 in the sixth and started Trucks' decline.

Ellis Kinder, of all people, muffed it for the Red Sox with his wild pitch allowing the winning run to score in the Tigers' fourth ninth modern-era pennant, breezed home on 11 hits and the brilliant relief work of Karl Spooner.

The 24-year-old southpaw, relieving rookie Roger Craig in the fourth, pitched no-hit ball over the final 5-2-3 innings, striking out nine and retiring 13 in order in one stretch.

Philadelphia tightened its grip on fourth place with a 6-4 decision over fifth-place Cincinnati, overcoming two homers by Redleg Wally Post.

There Will Be No Let Up in Playing For Brooklyn, Says Dodgers' Mentor

MILWAUKEE (AP)—"There'll be no letup if I can help it. We'll win as many as we can from here on in."

So said Walter (Smookey) Alton after his Brooklyn Dodgers squelched the Milwaukee Braves 10-2 and clinched the National League pennant yesterday on the earliest calendar date in the history of the circuit.

Alton, the "unknown" who was named pilot of the Brooks at the close of the 1953 season after four semesters at Montreal, said his uppermost problem was guarding against a letdown.

One might be expected since the Dodgers can now sit back and watch four American League clubs — Cleveland, New York, Chicago and Boston — whack each other around for the chance to meet the Dodgers in the World Series starting Sept. 28.

Alton is planning to rest four of his veterans — Pee Wee Reese, Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella and Carl Furillo — but he won't stand idly by and permit a lull to set in.

"I'll rest Reese, Robinson, Campanella and Furillo from time to time for a game or two," he said, "no longer. We'll try to operate at full strength right down to the wire."

The Dodgers left town 17 full games in front of the Braves with only 16 to play for a clincher on the first place they held almost from the start of the 154-game schedule.

The Dodgers bettered by four days the old speed record for the National League set here Sept. 12, 1953.

Shackamaxon Golf Course Upsets Pros

SCOTCH PLAINS, N.J. (AP)—Golf's top professionals, accustomed to ripping courses apart in PGA sponsored tournaments are finding the Shackamaxon Country Club layout something of a problem.

Only two bettered par 70 for the 6,730-yard course yesterday in the first round of the $50,000 Colonial Cup of Golf Tournament. And only three others matched standard figures as the narrow fairways, treacherous rough and concrete greens took a heavy toll among the aspirants for the first prize of $10,000.

Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., and Walker Inman of Augusta, Ga., each putting with deadly accuracy, shot 68's to hold a two-stroke lead going into today's second round of the 72-hole competition. The field will be cut to 60 and ties after today's play for the third round tomorrow and the final 18 holes Sunday.

The three tournament-hardened veterans who managed to match par were Freddie Haas, Ted Kroll and diminutive Jerry Barber.

Favored Sam Snead stepped with in striking distance of the leaders with a 71—the same score turned in by Cary Middlecoff, Gene Littler, Dick Mayer and Bud Holcher.

He's likely to be a starter against Maryland in Columbia Sept. 17, a situation which ordinarily would improve his chances for bettering the yardage he amassed as a junior. But—as the Gershwins put it—that ain't necessarily so.

For one thing, Mizou's accomplished pitchers of last year—Vic Eaton and Tony Scardino—are no longer around. They finished 1-2 in the conference, with a combined net of 1.115 yards, and the Tigers don't figure to get comparable chucking from Quarterbacks Jimmy Hunter, Dick Stuber and Dave Doane.

Another factor working against Burnine could be that opposing secondaries will shadow him a little more zealously this year.

They'd better, for this 183-pound G.I. with fly-paper fingers will catch most of the footballs thrown within plucking distance this autumn. His blocking and tackling won't elicit many bravos, but purely off his pass-catching reputation, Burnine was a 12th-round draft pick of the New York Giants last winter.

He was eligible for selection then, having first enrolled at Missouri in September, 1949.

OFF THE SUBJECT—It may be football season but these two University of Missouri sophomores probably are talking baseball. Both are sons of former major leaguers. At left is Robin Wright, son of Glenn Wright, shortstop for the Pittsburgh Pirates, Brooklyn and the Chicago White Sox during the 20's and early 30's. At right is Jerry Curtright, whose father, Guy Curtright, was a Chicago White Sox outfielder from 1934 to 1946. (NEA Telephoto)

Repeat Performance Rough—'Hank' Burnine May Awake To a Different Yard Scene

Repeating as the league's top pass-receiver could be considerable of a chore for Missouri's Harold "Hank" Burnine this fall.

The slender 6-ft. 2 ball-hawk from Richmond picked off 22 passes for 405 yards last year, and curiously enough, he led the Big Seven pack even though a second-string end until the Tigers' ninth game. When Jack Hurley twisted a knee against Oklahoma, Burnine moved up.

He's likely to be a starter against Maryland in Columbia Sept. 17, a situation which ordinarily would improve his chances for bettering the yardage he amassed as a junior. But—as the Gershwins put it—that ain't necessarily so.

Nebraska's Hopes Rest On Line

KANSAS CITY (AP)—An inexperienced line holds the key to Nebraska's hopes for taking runner-up honors in the Big Seven Conference for the second straight year.

Coach Bill Glassford says that although the Husker line lacks experience it is the equal of last year's.

Glassford is particularly high in his praise of sophomore guard Don Kampe, a 6 foot, 195 pound candidate from Red Oak, Iowa.

Glassford says Kampe "has the size, temperament and heart to become a really fine football player."

Glassford also had special praise for Jim Murphy, a junior from Columbus, Neb., who won his first Husker letter last year.

The Nebraska coach predicts Murphy will turn in the best guard performance for the Huskers since his assistant, on Strashkim, opened holes for All America Bob Reynolds in 1950.

The return of fullback George Cifra from the Army is expected to strengthen Nebraska's backfield. Cifra, who played first string as a sophomore in 1952, was described as in "pretty good shape."

Nebraska finished with a 4-2 conference record and stood 6-5 on the season including its loss to Maryland in the Orange Bowl last year. It posted the best Husker record since 1950.

The Cornhuskers meet the University of Hawaii in their opener, Sept. 17. A 28-man Hawaii squad is scheduled to leave Honolulu by air Monday for Lincoln.

Elsewhere around the conference Colorado's gridmen weighed in yesterday with a 205 pound average. The Buffs line, topped by 227 pound tackle Sam Salerno averages 210 and the backfield with fullback John Bayuk tipping the scales at 221, averages 195.

Kansas State's Jon Walker, a sophomore end, is the Wildcat's heaviest at 232 pounds and half-back Keith Wilson the lightest at 157.

Bob Burris, Oklahoma's back, returned to action after missing a couple of days because of minor injuries suffered in a car accident. Kansas worked on its defense and ran through a dummy offensive scrimmage.

Missouri drilled on offense, then took it easy in an afternoon session. No rough work is scheduled until Saturday.

Iowa State ran through another two and a-half hour scrimmage and viewed movies from one of its earlier sessions.

TV Making Westerns For Itself

NEW YORK (AP)—About 50 years ago a man named Owen Wister wrote a novel called "The Virginian" and started a literary fashion that has flourished to this day. The Western, it's called in the book trade.

The basic element of the Western is a rather mute and fundamentally decent guy who's quick with a gun and able with a horse. To this character is added a variety of plot developments that fall into well-established patterns.

Events in Western stories have little to do with the important events of our Western history. The opening of the West, once the war-like Indian tribes were scattered, is a story of land hunger, litigation, personal fortitude, and a struggle for such necessities as water and transportation rights. Bad men were as rare as gangsters in our time; in general they have as little influence as Lucky Luciano has on the citizens of Omaha today.

But history always has bowed to literary fashions. The fashion established by the Western novel is that there shall be a good guy and a bad guy shooting it out. Well, why be superior about it? The Western is a pleasing entertainment that has delighted boys from 8 to 80 and a surprising number of girls of all ages.

The movies seized on the Western early. As movie-making matured, it produced such superior works as "Shane" and "High Noon" besides its perpetual spate of incredibly bad Western films. Television followed the lead of the movies, picking up old films that had no market except the Saturday kids' movie matinees.

Now television is sufficiently mature to produce its own equivalent of "Shane" or "High Noon." Its programming of new Westerns is especially heavy this season, with loud fanfare that they're going to be better than ever.

First out of the corral this week trotted a spavined runt and a high-stepping colt of promise. The runt was something called "Western Marshal," which appeared on NBC's New York outlet and may show up in your town if the salesmen have their way. It's the same old synthetic Western.

The promising colt is "The Life and Legend of Wyatt Earp" which premiered on ABC-TV. While it's not "High Noon," it's quite the best Western this department has yet seen on television. Hugh O'Brian is a credible and convincing Wyatt Earp, that actual Western marshal who took up the cause of justice reluctantly and died in bed in his 80s.

This series rings with authenticity of emotion and background and action.

South Texans Seek Dry Spots As Waters Ebb

RAYMONDVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Flood-pestered south Texas residents crowded into dry public buildings today to keep out of soaked, sodden homes as the backed-up waters slowly subsided. The sheriff's department here said that evacuation of residents from flooded areas in northwest Raymondville had ceased before 4 a.m. Most of the evacuees, a deputy said, were in the courthouse but he would make no estimate of the number.

Earlier, there were estimates that some 500 families would be evacuated from their homes.

There were no reports of deaths or injuries either at Raymondville or flooded Falfurrias. But damage to home furnishings and merchandise was feared high. Streets and highways, an official said, "took a terrific beating."

Typhoid vaccine for 3,000 persons was sent here by the State Health Department.

At Falfurrias, 50 miles north, most of the town was under several inches of water from rain-swollen Cibola and Palo Blanco creeks. The town had 7.24 inches of rain in 24 hours. The flood at Raymondville came when an estimated 8-inch rain Wednesday night overtaxed storm sewers and drainage ditches. Workers were busy through the night attempting to create new drainage for both towns.

No more rain was expected.

Rains Wreck Jail

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Storm rains sweeping southern Mexico's Pacific coast wrecked the Coyuca village jail in Guerrero state, killing five prisoners who were trapped in the adobe ruins.

AREN'T THEY PRETTY?—Watch out for these fellows in their grass skirts on Saturday, Sept. 10. They will be in Sedalia scaring folks, but don't be alarmed, they're not as bad as they look—we hope. This is the Harem of Ararat Shrine from Kansas City—the Harem-Scarem Hideous Harem. They, too, will be part of the parade which precedes the jurisdictional ceremonial.

Sweden Is the Place for Men Tired of Gold-Diggers in US

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Any man tired of these gold-digging American girls should take the next boat to Sweden.

It sounds like paradise on a great big ice cube. The place swarms with pretty girls, but these pretty girls are different.

How different? Well, when a fellow takes them out on a date he doesn't have to drive up in a $5,000 convertible. They would just as soon go for a long walk about the countryside, taking in deep breaths of fresh air.

They don't expect a suitor to hand over an egg-sized diamond ring when he pops the big question. They don't demand a mink coat from their husband every other frost.

All this I have on the word of Hillevi Rombin—pronounced "he-liv-ee rom-been"—who won the 1955 Miss Universe contest.

"In Sweden the wife does not get a diamond ring until she has had her first child—and she gets one only for the first child, not for any she has later," said Hillevi. "Only a very, very rich girl has a mink coat. No, I do not have a mink coat. I have only a fox stole."

But Hillevi, who has honest yellow hair and eyes that look like blue smoldering icebergs swimming in polar seas, probably will have that mink coat soon.

After winning her Miss Universe title and playing a small role in "The Benny Goodman Story," she went back home to Sweden to talk over her future with her fiancé and her parents. Should she continue her career as a linguistics teacher—she speaks five languages at 21—or return to Hollywood? Hollywood won.

Her fiancé, an air force lieutenant with a stern sense of duty, had to leave for Turkey to participate in a sports contest the day after she arrived home.

"But he is very happy that I am to try for a career in Hollywood," said Hillevi, a fact that may or may not show the lieutenant has the makings of a general.

As soon as she reaches the West Coast Hillevi, who has a six-month contract with Universal Pictures, will take singing, dancing, voice, acting and English lessons. It won't be necessary for her to learn to high jump or do a back flip as she already is a champion gymnast and track and field performer. But she will have to acquire the art of staying aboard a horse.

"Everybody at the studio must learn how to ride a horse," she said. "They say you never know when a good Western might come along."

Hillevi has only three beauty hints to American girls—be born in Sweden and get plenty of exercise and sleep.

"The climate with the changing seasons is good for the skin," she said, "and exercise gives the good feeling all over. I sleep 8 or 9 hours a night, and more if I can. Without sleep nothing is fresh with me."

A girl with no nonsense in her makeup, Hillevi hasn't let success make her chesty.

"My world has changed, but I am still only at the beginning," she said. "I am afraid that I will lose my head. I hope it doesn't. I do my best to—how do you say it?—keep a cold head."

She admires Greta Garbo, but doesn't want to follow in her footsteps.

"If I can't be myself," she said, reasonably enough, "I still don't want to be like anybody else."

Firemen Start To Win Control Of Timber Blaze

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Grimed and tired firemen battled two breakthroughs in Sequoia National Forest today but elsewhere they started to get the upper hand on blazes that had charred more than 200 square miles of California.

A wind shift caused added trouble in Sequoia forest 50 miles east of Fresno in the Sierra Nevada Mountains.

Gusts up to 30 miles an hour helped the fire break over a fire line three miles north of the northern boundary of King's Canyon National Park.

The other break was four miles west in the Sampson Creek and Mill Flat Creek area. Firemen had come within half a mile of closing a circle around the 15,000-acre fire just before that outburst.

At other places firemen hoped the temperature would stay low and the humidity high as they reported at least partial success.

Timber and brush fires in California and Oregon had taken eight lives and injured 11 people. Damage was estimated in California at more than 12 million dollars in a little more than a week.

Hollywood Males Snub Heat Relief

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Let's face it, men, we don't have the courage to throw off the shackles of our stupid hot-weather clothing.

This became evident in a query of male stars during the sizzling, hot spell in local history. They were asked how they felt about Bermuda shorts.

The wily English, who have given the world Chaucer, Churchill and Commander Whitehead, also contributed the short trouser for wear in beastly weather. No, the Boy Scouts had nothing to do with it, Mabel.

Whether in the steaming jungles of the Congo or the sun-baked beaches of the Bahamas, the sensible Briton wears pants cut an inch above the knee—no higher, mind you; 'twould be vulgar. And what do we cousins in the colonies do? We walk around in 100-degree heat with long wool pants hugging our legs.

You'd think that film stars, traditional style setters, would strike a blow for freedom of the American male. I corraled William Holden and Dewey Martin and asked them what they thought about Bermuda shorts.

Said Holden: "I think they're wonderful—in Bermuda."

Added Martin: "I like them a lot—on girls."

The cowards. And there they were on a 110-degree day wearing long pants, shirts, ties, coats, etc. No pioneer spirit there.

How about George Gobel? Surely he'd be enough of an individualist. I wandered to the "Birds and the Bees" set, and what do you know? There was Lonesome George in shorts. Of course, it was a jungle scene for the picture, but there was hope.

"How do you feel about wearing shorts, George?"

"Oh, I'm all for them. But I wouldn't wear them long socks with 'em. You need all the freedom you can get."

"Would you wear shorts in public?"

"Well, not hardly. I wear 'em around the house and maybe to play golf now and then. But I don't think I'd wear 'em out and around."

Surely, I thought, Humphrey Bogart would be my pigeon. The Old Curmudgeon. The railer at stupidity. I called him.

"Hello, Bogart? How do you feel about wearing shorts?"

"Not me, old boy. My knees are not for human consumption. Knobby, you know."

So I return to the office in disappointment, watching the co-workers sweltering in ties, shirts and long pants. One of the fellows has been urging me to pioneer the Bermuda shorts myself. I have declined.

Accepts Position As Restaurant Manager

Mrs. Goldie Fuentes, Route 4, has accepted a position as manager of a restaurant in the Coliseum of the Heart of Texas Fair and Rodeo, which will last from Sept. 26 through Oct. 10, at Waco, Texas.

Mrs. Fuentes was contacted for the position by Joe Lynch, the Waco fair concessionaire, who has worked the Missouri State Fair, where he met Mrs. Fuentes.

She has previously worked at such large restaurants as that located in Madison Square Garden and now travels to several large fairs each year to manage restaurants.

Off-Duty Policeman Shot in Arrest Try

The dead man was Edward Dabaud of Bergenfield, N.J., object of

Aide to Meet Ike For Security Talks After Conference

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower arranged to discuss national security problems today with his top military adviser, Adm. Arthur W. Radford.

Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, arrived by plane from Washington last night with a report for the President on a National Security Council meeting held at the White House.

The meeting at which Vice President Nixon presided, Radford's scheduled conference with Eisenhower today and Nixon's Denver meeting with the President last Monday all deal with the same security matters.

Just what those matters are all parties concerned have declined to say. Nixon, when he met with Eisenhower Labor Day, called them important but said they had no emergency aspect.

Tomorrow Eisenhower will switch hats to his role as head of the Republican party for a breakfast conference on 1956 political strategy with the GOP chairman from all the states.

Meanwhile, about 100 parents of white pupils met at Lemira Elementary School to pledge organized resistance to racial integration here.

Hopes Sedalia Gets Benefit of New Organ

John W. Gottschamer said today he hopes that one of Sedalia's churches or schools will have the benefit of a new spinet organ soon to be presented by a national firm for which he is a dealer.

"You always read about the other fellow being the lucky one and it becomes a sort of a 'lucky man' thing," he said, "but this time two organs will be presented with the understanding that one is to go to the religious or educational organization of the receiver's choice."

He said he would soon announce more details.

Optimistic Preparations Are Made for Optimists' Social

Everything looks optimistic for the Optimist Club's ice cream social that will be held Friday evening, starting at 5:30 at the parking lot on the north side of the courthouse, according to the president, Charles Hurtt.

Boys work is a very important thing to everybody and the proceeds from this ice cream social will go to carry on the boys work which is the Optimist Club's main objective. That's why Fred Arbogast has been hustling around getting tables and chairs lined up.

There is nothing Fred believes in more than boys work and he gets right in there and does his share in developing better citizens of the boys teaching them the value of good sportsmanship. There will be tables and chairs all right because when Fred sets out to do a job he does it.

Charlie Hanna, who recently won the lovely pen and pencil set given to the Sedalia Optimist with the most beautiful eyes, has been using those eyes on the women lately. It was up to the women to bake the cakes and it was up to Charlie to get them to say they would. They just couldn't resist Charlie's eyes, they had to agree when he told them the Optimist ice cream social was comin' that they'd bake him a cake. There will be lots of cake, says Charlie.

The Optimist members always like to dress up in white aprons and caps and this gives them another chance. Dr. Ben Klein has got his aprons and caps all lined up and he hopes he has a big force of men to wear them. Being an Optimist he feels certain that all the boys will be there ready to play waiter.

Harold Barrick won't look natural after the ice cream social is over — he has gone around so long now carrying a big box of pink tickets that it seems like it has become part of his regular wardrobe or equipment or something. Barrick is in charge of the ticket sales and he wants every Optimist member to become a magician. He wants to see them change those 25, 50 or 100 pink tickets he gave them into nice green folding money for the boys work fund.

Even the Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors has a job. He is going to do a little act between 5 and 5:30 p.m. His act will be to keep cars from going in there to park after the courthouse people have gotten their cars and cleared out.

These aren't the only ones who have jobs, every Optimist has something to do and Dr. H. O. Wilbur, general chairman, expects every one of them to be there and doing the job allotted to them.

Raging Fires Kill 2

11 Men Injured,
$12 Million Damage
By California's
Forest, Brush Fires

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—California's costly epidemic of forest and brush fires was largely brought under control today after causing two deaths, injuring 11 men and burning over 200 square miles. The fires caused damage estimated at more than 12 million dollars.

Towns and cities that had been threatened by the series of destructive fires in California were reported out of danger.

Flames Still Out Of Control

Flames still raged out of control along nearly 25 miles of the 70-mile perimeter of a multimillion-dollar brush fire in Santa Barbara County. But "the situation looks better," said Supervisor Robert Jones of the Los Padres National Forest.

Backfires, he said, removed the threat to Gaviota and Las Cruces, and a favorable wind apparently relieved danger to Santa Barbara, a city of 50,000 filled with vacationists and tourists.

10 Volunteers Painfully Burned

Ten volunteer fire fighters were caught in a sudden lashout of this fire on the Southern California coast Wednesday night and painfully burned.

The killer fires were in Oregon. The body of Wesley Weston, 40, was recovered today when control was re-established over the fire that trapped him near Rond Butte in south-central Oregon. Another Oregon fire fighter was burned to death Sunday.

A Hopi Indian specialist from Arizona was seriously injured by falling rock in the Sequoia National Forest fire which was brought 95 per cent under control in east-central California.

Men were ferried in by helicopter to close the line in the Sampson Creek area of the 15,000-acre fire.

Douse Threat To Yreka

Backfires removed the last threat to Yreka, just south of the Oregon border in Northern California. The backfire was used to get rid of potential fuel between the city and the huge "haystack fire" that had come within four miles of the city of 3,500.

The haystack fire, west of Yreka, expanded to 70,000 acres—more than 100 square miles. But the U.S. Forest Service reported it was 80 per cent controlled. One open area in the southwest corner was in country so rugged it could be fought only by hand.

Rangers today discovered a fire, caused by lightning in Six Rivers National Forest. It had been masked by smoke for several days. All other fires were reported controlled in the forest in northwest California. Substantial control was also reported over three fires in Trinity County that caused more than half a million dollars timber damage.

Combine Mail Routes For Knob Noster

The former three mail routes of Knob Noster have been reorganized into two routes effective Sept. 1, according to Richard Zink, postmaster.

Formerly Route 1 went to north and west. Route 2 went north and east and Route 3 went south and east. Now Route 2 has been split up and the new Route 1 covers north and west and the new Route 2 goes south and east. Both are 70-mile routes and require from 1½ to two hours more a day to serve, a total of about six hours a day. The reorganization seems to be working well, Zink said. Jack Sauls, regular carrier serves Route 2, while Teddy Zink, temporary carrier, serves Route 1.

Thief Uses Toy Pistol, Robs Store Of $640

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 8.—A robber wielding a toy pistol held up a five and ten cent store in downtown St. Louis. F. W. Woolworth & Co., 724 Olive St., at about 2:40 p. m. (CST) today and escaped with $640.

The money was taken from a cashier who had been making the rounds of various departments in the store and collecting receipts.

The toy pistol used in the hold-up was dropped by the robber and was recovered by police.

Training Against Brainwashing—Denies Torture In School Teaching Survival Of POW's

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Air Force officers said today their school to teach men to survive as prisoners of war always stops short of degradation or torture.

Istanbul, Izmir Rioting Under Control

PARIS, Sept. 8.—Members of the Atlantic Alliance including Greece today agreed that vigorous action by the Turkish government has restored law and order to Istanbul and Izmir, scene of anti-Greek rioting.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council accepted the assurances of Turkey's permanent NATO representative, Mehmet Ali Tiney, that his government is taking all necessary measures to avoid a recurrence of violence.

The 15-member Council had been convened by Lord Ismay, NATO secretary general, to hear reports from both Greece and Turkey on a situation which threatened to mar the efficiency of NATO's Southeast Europe Command, based at Izmir. Stories from the scene said that Turkish mobs stoned the homes of Greek officers serving at Izmir.

Rioting which injured 300 and caused 35 millions of dollars in property damage erupted in Istanbul and Izmir Tuesday night with the news that Greeks had dynamited a Turkish consulate at Salonika. For four hours mobs raged through the streets, smashing Greek-owned shops and houses. The Turkish government called out troops and clamped down martial law.

Soviets, Adenauer Confer

Will Talk With Russian Leaders
On Welfare And Security In Europe

MOSCOW, Sept. 8.—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived here today for momentous talks with Soviet leaders. He told them at the airport that "welfare and security in Europe and in the world largely depend on the normalization of relations between us."

That is the subject the Kremlin invited Adenauer here to discuss. It later agreed, at his insistence, to add reunification of Germany and release of German war prisoners to the agenda—but agreement on uniting Germany is not expected and Adenauer made no mention of it in his reply to the welcome of Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

Welcomed By Soviets

The 79-year-old leader of the Bonn government—repeatedly denounced and castigated in the Soviet Union in the past—today was welcomed to its capital with a great show of cordiality.

Assembled to greet him at the airport, decorated with dozens of German and Soviet flags, were Soviet officials, lacking only Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev. Ambassadors from East and West and a crowd of Russian sightseers also were on hand.

As he stepped from the gleaming Super Constellation which brought him from Bonn, a Soviet army guard in new red, gold and blue uniforms was drawn up for him to inspect. A military band played the Soviet and German anthems.

Met By 3 Russian Chiefs

Bulganin, flanked by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Deputy Premier Mikhail Pervukhin, led the welcome. Protocol would have required only Molotov to be present for the welcome. The ambassadors, including Charles E. Bohlen of the United States, crowded about them on the airstrip.

To reporters, Adenauer said, "I hope that our good flight is a good omen for our work in Moscow."

That work will begin tomorrow morning when the Chancellor makes a courtesy call on Molotov at the Foreign Ministry. Half an hour later, he is to call on Bulganin at the Kremlin. The actual conference is to start an hour later—also at the Kremlin. Khrushchev will join Bulganin and Molotov in these talks, along with numerous other Soviet officials.

Talks To Last 5 Or 6 Days

The German delegation headed by Adenauer and Von Brentano numbers 166 persons. It has taken over the Sovetskaya Hotel for its headquarters, while the special train which brought 116 delegates from Bonn will be used as a sort of temporary West German Embassy during the conference, which is expected to last five or six days.

Adenauer has made it clear he is determined to withstand any Soviet effort to wean West Germany away from its alliance with the Western powers.

Man Accidentally Hits, Kills Son With Truck

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Sept. 8.—Larry Green, 4, one of 13 children of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Green, was struck and killed tonight by a truck his father was backing into the driveway of their home.

Outside Will Be Completely Repainted--

Ilgenfritz Building Now Gordon Building And Is Undergoing Thorough Face-Lifting

The Gordon building, formerly the Ilgenfritz building, has been given a thorough renovation since it changed hands in a sheriff's sale on March 19.

The building was acquired on April 1 by Mrs. Leah D. Gordon, of Kansas City, a private investor. August Gordon has been in charge of work on his wife's purchase, spending about two days a week in Sedalia. The renovation, begun May 1, should be finished this week, except for the painting of the exterior.

This outside painting will be the most conspicuous change in the large building at Third and Ohio. Except for the ground floor Ohio Street frontage occupied by the J. C. Penney Co., the B and B Shoe Co., and the F. W. Woolworth Co., the entire east and south side of the building will be painted a steel gray, with dark gray trim on the windows and columns. The work, to begin next week, will take about a month. Three coats of Truscon, a recently developed water-resistant sealer-paint, will be applied by the William T. Wright, Jr., Painting and Decorating Co. of Sedalia. Gordon stated that all the work was given to local firms whenever possible.

A complete redecoration job will give the entrance at 228 South Ohio a modern "new look." Green steel walls with aluminum trim have been installed in the lobby, behind glass doors with prism glass panels above them. Also used to replace the old marble in the lobby is Philippine mahogany paint for the walls. Fluorescent lighting has also been installed for the lobby stairs, and all the corridors of the entire building. An aluminum office directory will be added soon in the lobby.

The familiar elevator with the iron grillwork will also be redone. Automatic doors will be installed for the elevator on all floors, and

Public Discussion Is Profitable On City Planning Proposals

A sizeable crowd was present Wednesday night at the city council chamber for the public discussion before the city planning committee on the proposed changes in many forms of Sedalia's city structure.

Five issues were discussed by the planning committee and the session was thrown open to the public to get the opinions and ideas of local citizens on these changes.

The session was run very smoothly and no heated discussions arose as various citizens gave their ideas on the issues.

Most of the discussion was based on the parks and playground issues, after a detailed account by John Vandekamp, city park board chairman, on the local parks.

Vandekamp explained that Liberty Park received or seemed to receive more attention than the other city parks due to the larger number of people who took advantage of its facilities.

Vandekamp said that the board had to gear its low budget to meet the needs of the park where most people go.

The need for work on many of the trees in the parks was discussed and the fact that the trees needed spraying, trimming and some replanting was acknowledged. A suggestion that the trees planted from now on be of some variety like oak so that they are less susceptible to diseases was offered.

On the discussion of the extension of the city limits, one individual, who lives outside the limits explained his opposition to the move by declaring that the city could make more money from bordering establishments, on fees for use of the city sewer, than by incorporating these places and being held responsible for their police and fire protection with other city benefits.

One opinion that the expansion would not be a paying proposition for maybe several years to come was brought up by another party with the added comment that when taxes and revenue caught up with the expenditures the extension would probably increase the city finances.

Dick Battles, who runs a business in southwest Sedalia, entered the discussion for new fire department facilities with a request for one to be located in that section of the city to give swifter service to its residents.

In a committee meeting after the public discussion it was decided that the St. Louis Fire Bureau, which controls this section of the state, would have to be contacted on this issue.

Very little discussion took place at the public meeting on off-street parking, but at the committee session following charts were shown by the Hare and Hare city planner representatives pointing out the logical places where parking lots could be established for the most economy and convenience.

Some thought that the issue on a city hall should be considered last and very little else was said in the public session, but the committee was also shown logical places for the erection of a city hall by the city planners.

It was suggested that a possible merger with the county on financing a new jail might be made, but that the jail and police station should be a part of the new structure.

The local planning group felt that the discussion was very valuable in determining the temper of the city on these questions, and according to S. J. Timbrius, chairman of the group, the groundwork for the plans has been laid.

OK Proposed Demilitarized Zone At Gaza

Barrier Suggested For Separation Of
The Two Forces

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 8.—The U. N. Security Council adopted unanimously today a Western Power resolution favoring the effective separation of warring Egyptian and Israeli forces on the Gaza front. Barbed wire or some other barrier has been suggested.

The Council also agreed with a proposal by Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, U. N. truce supervisor in Palestine, to establish a demilitarized zone more than a half mile wide along the frontier.

Arkady A. Sobolev, Soviet delegate, voted with the other Council members.

To Resume Peace Discussions

Omar Loutfi, Egypt, and Abba Eban, Israel, told the Council their governments agreed on resuming discussions with Burns on measures to prevent further clashes. Loutfi further said Egypt long ago favored putting up barbed wire. Eban was silent on the nature of the barrier.

More than 50 soldiers and civilians have been killed on both sides of the Gaza line since a new burst of violence Aug. 22 halted efforts by Burns to achieve some calm and order.

The Council met in special session on the call of Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., United States, Sir Pierston Dixon, Britain and Herve Alphand, the new French delegate. The delegates had a report from Burns on the incidents.

Demand Cease-Fire Maintenance

In rapid succession, the Western delegates made it clear they expected Israel and Egypt to cooperate with Burns. They demanded maintenance of a cease-fire wrenched by Burns after an Israeli raid on Khan Yunis Aug. 31 capped the border troubles. They urged the Council to approve the resolution giving endorsement to Burns' efforts. Noting Burns' report that Israel detained U. N. observers before the Khan Yunis raid, they called for full freedom of movement by U. N. personnel.

The Western resolution endorsed Burns' view that a repetition of the incidents will be avoided only if the opposing forces are separated by an effective physical barrier and if, in addition, defensive positions and motorized patrols are kept out of the demilitarized zone he has proposed.

Glenn M. Brill Family Topic Of Article

A recent article in the University of Missouri Journalism alumni bulletin gives this account of Glenn M. Brill and his family, formerly of Sedalia. Brill is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brill, his father being the former advertising manager of The Sedalia Democrat. His mother, after the death of Mr. Brill, maintained her stock holdings in the Democrat Co. until her death in 1954.

The article states:

The Glen M. Brill family of 750 Clarkson St., Denver, Colo., is celebrating this summer. Glenn received his B.J. in 1925 and Mrs. Brill, nee Fern Wharton, was a journalism student in 1923-24.

Glenn writes that the Glenn Brill Advertising Agency is taking a long-earned sabbatical leave of absence to celebrate the fulfillment of the daughters' college careers and the launching of their matrimonial futures.

Barbara Wharton Brill, was graduated May 30 from Sophie Newcomb College and on May 31, from Tulane as a scholarship art major, following two years of scholarship art at Colorado Women's College in Denver. On Aug. 6, she was married in Denver to William Simmons of Colorado Springs. He is a graduate of Brown University and the University of Colorado and now completing medical training at the University of Colorado School of Medicine.

Evelyn Lou Brill, another daughter, was graduated from Wellesley College June 13, a scholarship music major. Evelyn, better known as "Bridgie", was this year's director of the Wellesley Madrigal Choirs. On June 25 she was married in Denver to Lawrence Hackstaff, graduate of Williams College, Phi Beta Kappa, this year getting his M.A. and Ph.D. in philosophy from Yale.

Papa and Mama Brill (Glenn and Fern) were married in 1925. Glenn had wide experience in newspaper work before establishing his own advertising agency in Denver.

Brill, after completion of his education at the University of Missouri journalism school, was employed for a time as the night editor of The Sedalia Capital and before attending school was for many years a reporter on the staff of The Democrat.

For several years he was with the Associated Press, later going to Colorado where he established his own advertising agency.

Marine Captain Gets $32,000 on Knowledge Of Five Desserts

NEW YORK (AP)—Marine Capt. Richard Sherrill McCutchen has won $32,000 by dishing up some tasty dessert recipes out of his store of gastronomic knowledge.

Next Tuesday night he can try for the top prize on The $64,000 Question, CBS television show.

Or he can call it quits and settle for the $32,000 he reached last night in his fourth appearance on the show. If he tries again and fails, he'll get an expensive automobile as a consolation prize. No contestant yet has tried for the $64,000.

McCutchen, who had chosen "food and cooking" as his question category at the start, last night described five desserts and gave the country of origin of each. They were: bombe, zabaglione, oiykoek, flummery and pfeifferness.

Another contestant last night—a widowed grandmother—advanced through the $8,000 mark by telling the last four years the St. Louis Cardinals won the National League baseball pennant.

Mrs. Myrtle Power, 70, of Buford, Ga., and Long Island, answered: 1942, 1943, 1944 and 1945.

Nine Presidents Bring a Rose— 'A Bouquet to You' Is Theme Of Garden Club Installation

An unusual and beautiful installation ceremony was used Friday by Mrs. Henry I. Eager of Kansas City, president of the Missouri Federation of Garden Clubs, in installing the new officers of the Council of Sedalia Garden Clubs, the presidents of the nine clubs and their officers. The installation was woven around the theme of the entire luncheon meeting, "A Bouquet to You."

Mrs. Roy Gerster was installed as president of the Sedalia Garden Club Council for the next two years and with her, her officers. They are: First vice-president, Mrs. A. H. Bratten; second vice-president, Mrs. Paul Reid; third vice-president, Mrs. W. B. Rich; fourth vice-president, Mrs. Al Schreiner; recording secretary, Mrs. James Atkinson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Weinrich; treasurer, Mrs. H. C. Johnson; parliamentarian, Mrs. L. H. Hodges, historian, Mrs. Ida Harman and auditor, Mrs. R. J. Hausam. The gavel was presented to Mrs. Gerster by Mrs. J. W. Boger, retiring president.

The presidents of the nine clubs and their officers were then installed with the retiring presidents of each club presenting the gavel, on which were tied flowers, to the new presidents.

It was then that each of the new presidents as Mrs. Eager called for their club, picked up the red rose at their place, took it to the speaker's table and handed it to Mrs. Eager.

"This is another two years in your Garden Club Council," Mrs. Eager told the members of the organization, "another two years of progress." "This day," she pointed out, "is to link the old administration with the new, the past administration," she said, "has forced a strong link into the chain of progress."

"Mrs. Gerster" she told the new president, "you have a great responsibility, but you have been chosen for your qualities of leadership."

Mrs. Eager then picked up the roses that had been brought to her by each of the nine club presidents. The rose, she said, has beauty, color and fragrance, it is a favorite of all. It may be enjoyed by the poor and the rich alike. As each of these roses compliments the other so will each club make your Council complete. In these roses are beauty, naturalness, simplicity, all of the things to make them complete and so in your clubs you will find ability, charm, love and all the qualities that will make your two years happy and successful. Each year in growing roses there will be less thorns and more beauty. As you arrange your bouquet of roses in the way you like best, so may you arrange your nine Garden Clubs. With that Mrs. Eager then handed to Mrs. Gerster the red roses with: "I give to you your bouquet of flowers."

Mrs. Herbert Seifert, one of the seven Past Council Presidents, presided at the meeting which opened with music by Mrs. Paul Berthouex, invocation by Mrs. Irwin Raut, and the singing of "America the Beautiful," by Mrs. E. F. Yancey.

Reports were given by Mrs. R. T. Phelan, auditor, and Mrs. Fred Kueck, State Fair chairman. Mrs. Kueck announced that Club 1, received one third, Club 2, two firsts; Club 3, one first; Club 4, one first and one third; Club 5, one fourth; Club 6, one third; Club 7, one first and one third; Club 8, one first and one second and Club nine, one second and one third, in prizes at the recent Missouri State Fair.

A wonderful report of many activities during her two years were given by Mrs. J. W. Boger, the retiring Council president, as well as the ground work for some future work. The arrangements have been made, Mrs. Boger told the group, for a memorial rose garden at Liberty Park. Among the things, accomplished during the two years were the four highway signs designating this as a Garden Club City, two conservation programs, one spring flower show, a fall flower show, the establishment of the Garden Center at the public library, flower arrangement schools, roadside park beautification, Junior Garden Club work, State Fair flower shows, Christmas arrangement shows, the joining of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce and many other things.

At the close of the report, Mrs. Boger, who has enjoyed to the fullest her two years of work as Council president, went to the piano and played and sang, "The End of A Perfect Day."

Mrs. Gerster told briefly of her hopes and plans for the next two years and presented Mrs. Boger with a gift from the members of her board. Mrs. Boger was then welcomed into the Past Council Presidents Club, by Mrs. L. H. Hodges.

Mrs. T. E. Gasperson sang "In My Garden" dedicated to the new president, Mrs. Gerster. She was accompanied by Mrs. Paul Berthouex.

The luncheon meeting was planned by the Past Council Presidents, Mrs. C. L. Carter, Mrs. A. A. Ferguson, Mrs. T. H. Yount, Mrs. Herbert Seifert, Mrs. J. C. Saunders, Mrs. Oscar DeWolf and Mrs. L. H. Hodges. Low arrangements of flowers in green bowls resembled nosegays with a large zinnia surrounded by tiny zinnias and edged with ageratum. Favors were crepe paper nosegays in many different shades, and on the piano was a large basket of pink zinnias. Officers of the Council and the presidents of the nine clubs were all presented with corsages.

The presidents of the nine clubs are: Club 1, Mrs. G. G. Hopkins, Club 2, Mrs. Harold Dean; Club 3, Mrs. B. Y. Edelen; Club 4, Mrs. Fred Brink; Club 5, Mrs. R. V. Miller; Club 6, Mrs. Paul Berthouex; Club 8, Mrs. E. J. Thomason; Club 8, Mrs. James Ryan and Club 9, Mrs. R. A. Enoch.

After Many Other Activities— Mrs. Rena Tevis Follows Her Mother's Work, Teaching

Because her mother was a teacher and loved her profession, Mrs. Rena Tevis decided she would be a teacher, too. She has had a variety of jobs and then went back to the very thing she started out to do, teach school.

Mrs. Tevis was born in Henry County and taught one year in a rural school after taking a teacher training course in the Clinton High School. Then she went to New York with her brother and worked for a time in Scheaf's Restaurant but later she came on back to Missouri. When she came back home she still had teaching in mind and went on with her education, attending Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg. She worked in the home of Prof. C. F. Martin, then head of the English department, to pay her way at school and taught in Pettis County at Longwood High School until she became ill. Rena's illness, caused by undulant fever, was long but she eventually recovered and married a young Pettis County farmer.

During the first part of World War II she held a civil service position at the Quartermaster Depot in Kansas City. Later she joined her husband in Gulfport, Miss., where he was stationed and taught the seventh grade arithmetic in the Junior High School there.

Then her husband was transferred to New Haven, Conn., and Rena went along. In New Haven she went to work for the American Tube Bending Company and operated a large machine that bent tubes to be used in making airplanes. Up to that time this machine had been operated by men and she was the first woman to run it. Up to that time, too, many here thought that a woman couldn't run it, but the shortage of man power and Rena proved they could, and she did.

4-H leader in the Brown community.

Once again it is time for school to start and Rena is anxious. It is a busy time just before school opens getting Kenneth and Mary Lou ready with new clothes and new books, getting everything lined up at home so she, too, can go back to the school room—but the sound of the school bell in September is like music to her ears.

That is why she tried many other kinds of work and went back always, to the job she likes best, teaching.

Regional Library Notes—

A Thriving Democracy Must Be Well-Informed Democracy

"The real basis of democracy," said Adolf Berle, "is opinion." That is to say that democracy is really the sum of all our 150 million opinions on the issues before the country. In the mature functioning democracy that the United States is supposed to be, each of us should be prepared to speak his informed and considered opinion in a sort of daily national poll, and in any case to always speak it at election time.

And how are we prepared for this? Some of our peoples once held town meetings and made all their decisions in a kind of committee-of-everybody arrangement but that is no longer possible. In a country as huge as ours, we have to educate ourselves in government at long distance. There is no better way than by reading.

As far as the United States is concerned, we must understand local differences. The Northerner should read William Percy's "Lanterns on the Levee" and Richard Wright's "Black Boy" to understand the problems of the Cotton Belt. In general, any American can get a quick understanding of other sections of our country thru John Gunther's "Inside U.S.A." There are dozens of newspapers, periodicals and commentators that give all types of views but a general background of history leading up to the present issues is worthwhile. History read in one's adult life has much more meaning than the school boy or school girl type of material. There are many good adult histories but "The Growth of the American Republic" by Samuel Eliot Morison and Henry Steele Commager is short readable and comprehensive.

Biographies of statesmen, of current men in our government, of leaders in the scientific fields as well as the political fields, help one's judgment. But never read just one side of any controversial issue. Read both sides and then make up your own mind. That is important in a democracy. Use your library for background material. Only the present happenings are given in newspaper accounts, you need it all for a considered opinion. Boonslick Regional Library can provide a variety of material on many issues of today.

Held in Switzerland—

Hazel Palmer Returns From International BPW Meeting

Everywhere in Europe, Miss Hazel Palmer, first vice-president of the National Business and Professional Women's Clubs, said upon her return from the international board meeting she attended in Switzerland, there is talk of a United States of Europe. A uniting of these countries into something on the order of the United States of America, they believe would not only give them more strength but more freedom where they could go from country to country as we go from state to state.

It is like a story book land, these countries of Europe she found, with their perfectly kept small farms that look like they might have been swept they are so tidy. All of the homes are well kept, too, with even pictures painted on the outside of the homes in some countries. She found people in Europe very contented, living as easily as possible, and doing everything they could to enjoy themselves. Bicycles are the mode of travel. Mother and father each has a bicycle, each take a couple of the youngsters and away they go. They even do their courting on bicycles, she said, a boy and a girl will each have a bicycle and ride along together. Often their bikes get very close and the boy will catch the handlebar of the girl's bike.

The women and children do most of the farm work with the same type of farm implements they used hundreds of years ago. But, she noted that they all wore dresses. She never saw a woman in slacks and short there, doing the farm work, riding bicycles or anywhere. The only two or three she did see in slacks or shorts were American tourists, she said.

PTA Endorses Referendum, Student Aid

The Parent-Teacher Association of Smith-Cotton High School, through a pre-school executive committee meeting Thursday night at the high school, endorsed Referendum 2, the public school foundation program. Mrs. L. E. Sheridan, president, announced that a resolution was adopted urging a positive vote for the Referendum Oct. 4. Other important matters were also discussed.

The public school foundation program is a plan for increased state school monies and is designed for their effective use. It will help meet realistically the critical problems of soaring school enrollments, overcrowded classrooms, and securing qualified teachers. Mrs. Sheridan said that the schools were operating under a set of laws about 25 years old, and new laws were needed for contemporary problems.

The adoption of this program would raise Missouri's rank in expenditure per pupil from 31st among the states to 21st. In percentage of income used for educational purposes, Missouri would rank 32nd among the states rather than the present rank of 42nd.

Pinkney Miller, co-chairman of the group, urged a large turnout at the polls Oct. 4.

Mrs. Sheridan opened the meeting by welcoming new members of the executive committee, and Marvin Maune and James Swafford, members of the student council.

A balance of $274.67 was reported, after auditing the books. Dates for the four required meetings were set for the second Thursday of October, December, February and April. Mrs. Howard Gwinn, parent education chairman, asked for discussion on the parent education classes, and these meetings were slated for September, November, January and March.

The annual variety show, the chief source of income, will be held March 1 and 2. Mrs. George Chamberlin is budget and finance chairman.

Mrs. Sheridan announced that the district meeting will be held in Sedalia Oct. 5 at the Epworth Methodist Church. Reservations must be in to her by Oct. 1.

Mrs. Chamberlin, first vice-president, was elected delegate to attend the state convention in St. Louis Nov. 8-10. Mrs. Nathalia Poynter is alternate.

The program for the year was put before the group by the program chairman, Mrs. Poynter. The topic, immediately approved, was "Working With Youth Through the High School PTA."

Mrs. Ed Bates announced that the membership drive would start Oct. 13, to run for one week. The class with the most members will be given a party by the PTA.

Paul Muni Loses Eye Containing Harmful Tumor

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Muni, one of the top actors of Broadway and Hollywood, has come through an operation for the removal of his left eye satisfactorily and is said to have taken the loss in good spirit.

Muni, who had complained of pain and falling eyesight, gave up his leading role in the Broadway hit "Inherit the Wind" last week. His performance in the show had earned him Variety's nomination as best actor of the year.

The 59-year-old actor's eye was removed at Mt. Sinai Hospital yesterday after it was found to be affected by a tumor—a growth which or might not be

Proposes TV Cancel Cheap 'Junk' Shows

NEW YORK (AP)—No law-making body ever had been able to legislate good taste. Efforts to protect the public morals led quickly to censorship. Cooperative, solidified public opinion is the most potent force of moderation and decency.

Such generalities flow in the main thought currents of American legislative bodies in our time. They are apparent in the recent report of the Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee, which finds that while it cannot prove television crimes programs cause juvenile delinquency, it believes there is a "calculated risk" in children constantly viewing such programs.

It would be difficult for an adult mind of any age to quarrel with the balanced judgment of the subcommittee. Its basic original research on programs was conducted in 10 American cities over five September days of last year. One who regularly watches television would say the percentage of crime and violent Western shows on the air this September is only slightly lower than it was a year ago.

The subcommittee stresses its approval of the many excellent children's programs which the major networks are fostering these days. Most of the bad apples it finds in the barrel are films, some old reruns, and other package programs by outfits which sling together cheap shows aimed at a maximum profit.

Some means definitely should be found of running off the air this junk masquerading as entertainment. What does the subcommittee propose?

Flatly rejecting any idea of government censorship, it proposes:

(1) Stricter control over TV programming by the Federal Communications Commission with power to levy fines for violations of "certain minimal standards"; (2) formation of local citizens' "listening councils" which would report "offensive materials to responsible sources" promptly; (3) "collective responsibility of station managers for TV programming; (4) extension of the National Assn. of Radio and Television Broadcasters code to include movies produced for TV; (5) establishment of a Presidential commission to study and report the situation.

Dewey Martin Can't Play A Tough Guy

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Should Dewey Martin rip his T-shirt, ride a motorcycle and snarl at females? Sometimes the lad thinks he should. It seems to be the way to get ahead in Hollywood. But Dewey doesn't because he likes nice clothes, he prefers a sports car and he likes girls.

"Otherwise I might do it," he remarks.

The source of his frustration is the normal struggle to win prize film roles in this town. Dewey has put in some impressive performances; his work in "The Desperate Hours" is said to be of Oscar quality. But he is passed up for roles he earnestly seeks—and for the strangest reasons.

He has apparently lost two hot roles to one of the members of the blue-jean, surly-talk school. Dewey didn't name his adversary, but it's obviously James Dean.

"I didn't get the part in 'Giant' because they said I wasn't big enough," said medium-sized, slim Dewey. "So who gets the role?"

Answer: medium-sized, slim James Dean.

Now Dewey has apparently lost out on the Rocky Graziano role in "Somebody Up There Must Like Me." And at his own studio, yet.

"I have to get loanouts to keep working," sighed Dewey. "They're beginning to call me the male Grace Kelly of MGM."

Among the other reasons he is turned down for roles, particularly by some of the more mature leading ladies: He's too young. Dewey will be turning 32 shortly and wonders if he will have to gray his hair to convince people he's no kid.

Publicity is a problem for a young actor who doesn't go in for the eccentric type of buildup Dewey rebels at touring the night spots with glamor dolls in order to become a column twosome, as many young players do.

Woman Jumps To Avoid Car That Struck Cow

Mrs. John R. Ballah, Route 3, Sedalia, suffered injuries about 4:50 p. m. Wednesday when she jumped into a drain ditch to escape being struck by an oncoming automobile near her home. The incident occurred in front of the Al Greer farm, 8.5 miles west of Sedalia on the West 16th Street road, while Mrs. Ballah was driving the cows from a pasture across the road to her farm.

Mr. Ballah was at work near the farm home some distance away when he heard his son call to him to call the State Highway Patrol. He then went with his son to the aid of Mrs. Ballah.

The car, a 1953 Mercury sedan, was driven by Jimmy Davis Amos, 340th Supply Squadron, Sedalia Air Force Base. Amos was driving west on 16th when he topped a rise in the road and saw the cattle on down the road at the edge of the highway. He immediately applied his brakes and his car went a spin, struck one of the cows and hit the shoulder of the highway.

Mrs. Ballah, hearing the car, jumped into the ditch, twisting her back in the fall. She was not hit by the automobile.

The cow suffered a possible fractured rib.

Amos was accompanied by two other airmen from the base. None of the occupants was injured. The car was damaged in such a fashion it could not be driven.

Sgt. E. W. Van Ninkle of the State Patrol investigated the accident.

Woolworth Store Change to End In November

By now Sedalia shoppers have almost become accustomed to the wooden "shed" on the Ohio sidewalk in front of the F. W. Woolworth Co. store. But according to R. A. Malone, store manager, the renovation project is slated for completion sometime next month. The "shed" will be removed to reveal a new, completely modern store front.

Behind the front will be a completely new store, with only the present side walls and ceiling remaining. A new floor, new lighting, and new fixtures will be installed.

According to Malone, the new store will be operated on a self-service basis. However, this is not expected to reduce the current number of employees, especially in view of the new luncheon department that will be installed.

Business will be carried on, probably slightly cramped, after the workmen move into the store proper. The store may have to close a few days to make the final changeover, however.

Malone said the work is being done by local contractors under a Woolworth foreman, familiar with the company layout that is planned.

Tipton Reduces City Tax Levy

Mayor Virgil R. Helms announces that the city tax levy on real and personal property has been reduced 30 cents on the $100 assessed valuation which will be in effect for this year's taxes.

Mayor Helms stated this action was taken at the regular city council meeting held Tuesday evening instead of Monday since that day was a holiday.

Discussing further the new ruling the mayor says that the city levy will be lowered from $1.85 to $1.55 which will help to offset, partially, the advance in tax rate on town real estate property on which the state tax commission has ordered a 40 per cent increase.

Another subject acted on at the regular monthly meeting was that of enforcing the street stop signs and for bicycle riding on the sidewalks.

The city council is carrying an advertisement in this week's issue of the Times as prepared by J. A. Conn, city clerk, which reads, "Notice is hereby given that, from and after the publication of this notice, the penalties provided in the ordinances of the city of Tipton relative to stop signs—will be enforced."

"Also the penalties for riding bicycles on the sidewalks in the city will be enforced."
